Rex Hill and Ray Cheyne visited in Amarillo Monday.

County Budget Is Discussed By Commissioners

Economy was the theme of the discussion taken up by the County Commissioners at the regular monthly meeting of that body Monday afternoon.

Considerable time was given to the discussion of lowering salaries, but no definite action was taken along this line.

The financial condition of the county is good, according to reports from the office of County Judge Orton, but it is hoped that the budget for next year may be greatly lowered over the present budget. Quite a saving has been effected in the county expenses the past year, said Mr. Orton, and the county during 1931 spent over $15,000 less than during the preceding year. If the present budget holds, more than $10,000 will be saved over the 1931 expenses.

Through the policy of holding expenses down, the county hopes to stay on a cash basis entirely and next year may be able to lower the tax rate from $1.18 to $1.08.

Member of Federal Farm Board Talks to Ag Class Here

W. F. Schilling, member of the Federal Farm Board representing poultry and dairying, was here for a short time last Friday morning. He was met as he arrived in Amarillo by Frank R. Phillips of the agriculture department. They breakfasted in Amarillo and came down to Canyon in time for Mr. Schilling to talk from 9:00 to 9:30 to a group of agriculture students. In line with his duties on the Farm Board, Mr. Schilling is touring this part of the country in the interest of dairying and poultry raising. He left immediately after talking to the agriculture students for Plainview, where he made a speech later in the day. He was accompanied by C. H. Alvord, field representative of the Southern States Division of the Farm Board.

The substance of Mr. Schilling's speech, as taken down by a student, was as follows:

The only type of cattle which pay are the high producing type.

Mr. Schilling is a breeder of Holstein cattle. He has produced some world champions. He was President of the Twin City Creamery Corporation and later a director in the Land o'Lakes Corporation.

The Farm Board has loaned $18,500,000 to cooperative creameries, and none of these have failed to pay the interest back on the due date. Over nine hundred different cooperative poultry and dairy associations have been assisted by the Farm Board during the past two years. This assistance has been mostly for the purpose of handling the products during the time they were being marketed. For instance, they have made loans to aid in building dairy plants, and other buildings.

These loans are made with the understanding that they will be paid back at regular intervals, with deductions of the cream checks or so many dozen eggs being the way in which these loans are paid. The government loans this at a rate of interest not in excess of the amount of interest on government bonds at that time. The interest collected on the loans made has more than paid the operating expenses of the Farm Board, or over $1,800,000.

There are over ninety different agencies operating in the United States that have received direct assistance from the Federal Government. This number will probably be increased through the reconstructing Finance Corporation, which has been recently organized with two billion dollars to loan to banks, railroads, etc.

The purpose of this visit to Texas is to assist in developing a larger interest in dairy and poultry production and the marketing of these products. In this work we are merely helping to put over the program which has been developed by the A. & M. and other agencies in the State.

We intend to build this business on high quality of the products. Cooperative creameries are striving for ninety-three per cent butter. To make a success, Mr. Schilling told a group of boys, is to always be on time, and do just a little better than the other fellow. In that way you can always hold a job.

Dr. J. A. Hill, Dr. R. P. Jarrett and Dr. Harris M. Cook spent Monday afternoon in Amarillo on business.

Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Thomas visited with relatives near Claude Tuesday.

Mr. Grant is a lumberman from Houston. He has been actively engaged in various business enterprises for a number of years, and is greatly interested in the affairs of the state government.

Mr. Grant states that everywhere he goes he is told that Govnornor Sterling cannot defeat Mrs. Ferguson, if they are in the primary together. Therefore he hopes for election, as he believes the Democrats of Texas will not accept Mrs. Ferguson in the general election this fall, and therefore his change for election.

Mr. Grant states that this is the first time that he has visited the Plains country, and he was amazed and delighted to find the splendid country which we have. He was impressed with the fine and progressive towns, which are so much superior to other sections of the state.

Rotary Club Will Visit Panhandle Club Friday p. m.

The Canyon Rotary Club entertained the largest number of visitors that it has ever had at the luncheon Tuesday. Eighteen from Amarillo were present, and one from Plainview. It was almost Amarillo day in Canyon.

Visitors were: Weldon Nussman of Plainview; Dwight Denmead, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. O'Brien, Laroy White, Arthur Osgood, W. A. McIntosh, R. A. Ford, I. N. Edwards, J. J. Sanders, O. W. Wright, C. W. Rogers, H. W. Allen, Fred P. Brien, George Stapleton, Chas. R. McAfee, Chas. A. Green, Rev. and Mrs. G. J. Irwin.

There will be no meeting of the Canyon Club next Tuesday as the entire membership will go to Panhandle Friday night of this week to return the visit of the Panhandle Club. Cars will leave the News office at six o'clock to make the trip.

The birthdays of Dr. Harry A. Brown on the 9th, and that of George G. Foster on the 15th were recognized.

The club voted to send four delegates to the all-Texas meeting at Mineral Wells next month, but not to send a delegate to the international meeting at Seattle.

The program Tuesday was in charge of the Vocational Service committee, W. A. Warren, chairman. Mr. Warren called attention to the need of thinkers in the world today, and made an able address upon the accomplishments of thinkers in the world's history of progress. He drew illustrations from the lives of great thinkers—Socrates, as a philosopher; Columbus, as an explorer; Shakespeare, as a writer; Sir Walter Raleigh, as a statesman; Franklin, as an inventor, who was followed by Edison; Woodrow Wilson, as a statesman. He compared the ideas of Wilson, regarding statesmanship with those of the Central Powers, who sought to conquor the world by might.

Rotarians are selected as representative men in their various vocations. Therefore, Mr. Warren called attention to the need of members to be foresighted in their vocations, and examples in their communities.

P.P.H. BANQUET IS CLIMAX OF ANNUAL MEET

T. D. HOBART IS ELECTED PRESIDENT.

John A. Lomax, Authority on Cowboy Lore, Speaks Friday Evening.

T. D. Hobart of Pampa was elected president of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society here Friday in its annual meeting which was climaxed by a banquet at Cousins Hall in the evening. H. E. Hoover of Canadian was re-elected first vice president; Dr. J. A. Hill, second vice president; L. F. Sheffy of Canyon, secretary; and W. L. Vaughn, Canyon, treasurer.

These officers were elected at the business session held at 2:30 p. m., and at that time a report was made on the progress of the campaign to raise $25,000 to match a similar sum appropriated by the State Legislature to build a museum here. According to this report, the campaign is progressing nicely, all but $6,000 being pledged or paid. Another feature of this meeting was an address by Floyd Studer of Amarillo on "The Pageantry of the Plains."

The activities of the afternoon, which consisted, besides the business session, of a trip through the museum and other diversions, culminated in the banquet at 6:30 o'clock. With J. O. Guleke of Amarillo playing to perfection the role of the genial toastmaster, a spirit of conviviality was created by the introduction of all present and an address of welcome by President J. A. Hill. Next Mrs. Daisy Curry struck the keynote of the occasion by reading a paper, "Pioneer Women of the Plains," in which she recounted many instances in early Texas history where women proved their right to share the title of "pioneer."

Continuing the program, a violin solo by Herschel Coffee was followed by an address, "Our Debt to the Pioneers," by Clint C. Small of Amarillo, who made striking estimates of the contributions of West Texas to the State of Texas and to the whole nation. His talk was followed by two vocal solos, "Home on the Range," and "The Old Chisholm Trail," by Bill Dawes, Endee, New Mexico.

Then came the treat of the evening—John A. Lomax's talk on cowboy lore, plentifully punctuated with appropriate cowboy songs, read by Mr. Lomax, whose home is in Dallas, from two volumes of the collection he has made. He had a song for every mood, from rollicking good humor to heart-touching pathos, and his hearers ran the gamut of emotions. The RECORDING HISTORY OF THE PANHANDLE-PLAINS.

Plainview Evening Herald: The Panhandle-Plains Historical Society makes no great hullabaloo about its activities. It keeps the even "tenor of its way." It is a group of unpretentious people, who are interested in recording the past and the contemporary history of the Panhandle-Plains area. A wealth of original sources—personal memoirs, records of the large ranches, letters, documents, etc.—has been preserved by this society and filed.

Historians often spend long years searching for original sources that will shed light on particular phases of history. Few are interested in the filing of records of their particular generation.

Many a person has wished that he had a complete record of his forbears. Each may wish that his ancestors had kept for posterity a record of the intimate details of the family. All the while he is making no record whatsoever of his generation and succeeding generations will wonder why he was so disinterested.

It is not that we attach no significance to the events with which we are contemporary. It is more an inclination to put off to some more opportune time the writing of a record.

Time after time local citizens urged one of the pioneer citizens of the Plans, who knew its history as well or better than any living man of this section, to write his memoirs. He was a modest, retiring man. He tried to do what hs friends wished on many occasions, but he didn't have time to write himself, and he did not find dictation to his liking. With his passing there passed also the record that his brilliant mind held, which would have been valuable as a contribution to the history of the Plains.

Next to writing one's own story of the times in which he lives, historians attach importance to the preservation of such records as are made and should be made of events and the human element associated therein.

The Panhandle-Plains Historical Society is to be commended upon its work. The museum which it has started is a distinct contribution to the entire area and to Texas and the Southwest.

Tonight (last Friday) its members meet in their annual banquet in Canyon at the West Texas State Teachers College. Hale County and the Plainview territory feels a peculiar interest in the activities of this section, due laregly to the efforts which L. F. Sheffy, a Hale County boys, is making to preserve the records and to record the history of the Panhandle-Plains. Lester Sheffy is interested in history as a student and has become a scholar. He has the historian's viewpoint.

Parents ask many questions about their boys and girls and believe me it is a real pleasure to know some good things to report. College prospects quote the good things that some W. T. student has said about his school and this is a powerful force that must not be overlooked. Norville Wrenn, Louise Jacobsen, Noel Gollehon, Edward Ireland and others from Deaf Smith and Castro counties are being quoted. Take any town or county and the college prospects there are anxiously listening to what the students from their home town have to say about our school. I wish that we could get over to the reader of this the importance of saying only the good things about our town and college. Any fool can see our own weaknesses but it takes strength of character not to parade them. This is the difference between a college town and the ordinary town. Mr. Hill is spending his life for the college. He is carrying a two or three man load.

Every time that you destructively criticise the town or college you add to his load. Suppose some more of us get on the other side and pull and boost and stop wasting our time knocking. Let us give every student here a good thing to tell his homefolks about Canyon and the college.

Our old friend Lee Satterwhite announces for the Railroad Commission, opposing C. V. Terrell. Lee was representative from this 123rd district until four years ago when he moved from Amarillo, his home for five years, to Odessa. He was Speaker of the House while representing this distrirct. He broke precedent by being returned to the House as a member after retiring as Speaker. He was elected from Odessa for the present legislature, this making the third district from which he has been sent to the legislature. Without doubt there are few men in Texas who know the Texas state government better than Lee Satterwhite. He is well qualified to serve in the office he now seeks. After listening for days to the testimony in the special oil session of the legislature last summer, we were thoroughly convinced that C. V. Terrell was incompetent and unfit for his job. As chairman, Terrell has made a mess of things, and should be defeated, for the good of the state. However, please bear in mind that the name "Terrell" holds a charm with the people of Texas, and whoever defeats him will have a job on his hands. There will be four or five opponents to Terrell in the primary.

Attorney General Jimmy Allred has definitely announced that he is a candidate for re-election, and had no intention of running for Governor, even though Governor Sterling should not seek a second term. Allred will be opposed by another West Texas man, Clem Calhoun of Amarillo. Allred hails from Wichita Falls. It is a well known fact that the oil interests, and many business men are very much opposed to Allred. His oil suits were started at a poor time to improve his popularity with the business interests of the state. Whether or not his opposition will make a bitter fight, yet remains to be seen. From Austin it is reported that at least 350,000 votes would be cast against him regardless of whom his opponent might be. A hard campaign could increase this number. Be it remembered, however, that when it comes to a campaign, Jimmy Allred is a whiz bang, who knows all of the wily arts of meeting the people and making them like him.

If you make your living in Canyon, as a workman, a clerk, a professional man, a merchant, you owe it to the community to spend and invest your money here. Money spent away from Canyon builds another town, and makes your chances for a livlihood in Canyon just so much less, your job just so much less secure, and your property worth just so much less. The printing done in Canyon contributes to the upkeep of a dozen families, who, if all the printing of the community were sent away from home, would have to move to another job, and the city would lose several thousand dollars annually in taxes, insurance, heat, light, and other items paid to local firms and institutions. A business firm should be interested in the welfare of local business institutions, as the money kept in circulation in Canyon will always come back to his till, sooner or later, whereas the money he sends away is gone forever. Think it over.

Reports from over the state indicate that in the school elections and the city elections, the conservative element of the state were large winners. These elections were the hottest in many years. The winners generally were candidates who took the stand that local governments must function efficiently; that all possible economies must be made; but that institutions must not be wrecked in perilous times like these by untried methods or departures. The primary elections this summer, and the general election in November will likely be the hottest in many years, but the ballots of this spring indicate that in spite of conditions, people are still thinking straight and are not mislead by unwarranted statements of those who might attempt to upset governmental affairs.

Col. Lindbergh has paid the $50,000 ransom, but his son has not been returned. He thinks he paid the money to the right parties. Speculation is now whether or not he was double-crossed by the real kidnappers, or whether he was duped into paying the money to the wrong gang. It is hard to say. Criminals will take any means at hand for their own use and benefit. Officers were called last week to the penitentiary to hear the "confession" of one of the robbers of the First National Bank, who turned out to be a first class liar, hoping to get his freedom through his tale. Dealing with criminals is a very serious matter, and one never knows when to believe them, and never can trust them.

Those who raise flowers and gardens are starting to complain of chickens running at large. Of course, Canyon has an ordinance against chickens running at large, because an old hen can do great damage to a flower bed or to a garden in a few minute's time. After years' experience, we find that the only way to impress upon folks the necessity of keeping their chickens at home is to feast on the fowls. At least, there will be fewer chickens running at large, and therefore less damage done to property, flowers and gardens. If you raise chickens, keep them at home—your neighbors do not want them.

Al Smith says that he is still willing, and by no means is he just a "stalking horse." No one doubts Al Smith's love for a political fight, win, lose or draw. Naturally he has been more of a winner than a loser, or he would not be so popular. His main concern now is to defeat Roosevelt, upon whom he looks as a traitor to the cause of Tammany Hall. The battle becomes more interesting, with Roosevelt garnering in the votes of the few states which have thus far held conventions, or preferential primaries. Be it remembered that two-thirds is an awful lot of votes to gather into one camp, and the convention is yet two months away.

The high winds and dry weather combined to solve at least half of the wheat harvest problem for the coming summer. So far, at least, half of the wheat and a larger percent of the oats and barley has been lost. It was not until Saturday, however, that the wheat gamblers decided that wheat was going to be scarce and the market started to go up as a result of the crop loss. It is said that the past month has been the most destructive short period that the Panhandle has ever experienced so far as the wheat was concerned. As a result, a very large acreage—the largest in the history of the Panhandle—will be devoted to row crops this year.

It is said that the two-cent stamp will likely be a thing of the past, so far as first-class postage is concerned. To meet the postal deficit and to pay government expenses of operation, the three-cent postage will likely continue for years to come. Even three cents for a first-class letter is not bad—if congress would only cut out the franking privilege for themselves and the hundreds of governmental departments which are loading the mails and causing much of the postal deficit.

S. M. N. Marrs, state superintendent, is opposed to cutting the cost of running the state's schools. He is posing as a tax expert, and tells where the funds may be secured for the purpose of even increasing the school apportionment. A self-styled expert on taxation is one who can tell how much the other fellow should be taxed, though generally he himself contributes nothing in the way of public funds. Marrs advocated the increase of the school apportionment two years ago, when the funds were not available to make the greatly increased payments. Probably some of his tax sources are likewise mythical in nature.

A merchant will spend hours in carefully selecting goods for his store; will take care in selecting clerks to handle those goods; will spend much time and a considerable amount of money in arranging the goods and decorating the show windows, in order to make them the most attractive; and then will carelessly write a few words without particular meaning for his advertising, or tell the printer to just throw something together and print it—just so that it is cheap. If the goods are worth a place in your store, they are worthy of carefully prepared advertising, which has so much to do with their sale.

Tom Love lost his fight to keep the State Democratic Executive Committee from imposing the pledge upon those who enter the conventions this spring for the purpose of selecting delegates to the state convention, which in turn names the delegates to the national convention. It has been found that the pledge matters but little to the voters. If they choose to abide by the pledge, they abide; if not, they break the pledge. However, these fights are good for Tom's vanity in keeping him before the public, and this he likes very much.

The Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum is the biggest thing confronting the people of Canyon today. Depression or no depression, the building must be erected, or the College and Canyon will loose an opportunity that comes only once in a generation.

No opportunity for improvement in Canyon and the College has been presented in 22 years as the erection of the MUSEUM. It must be completed before the 31st of August, 1932, or the appropriation will be lost—LOST probably forever so far as this town and the College is concerned.

The MUSECM must be built this summer.

President Hoover proposes to work for another term at $1.00 per year. Even at that price, we are wondering how much the country would be skinned in the deal.

Every citizen of Randall county can contribute a little to the MUSEUM fund. Some can contribute a considerable amount. It's up to us, folks, to act at once.

Do YOUR PART toward the erection of the MUSEUM. It must be erected this year—or perhaps never.

Looks like insurgent House members have taken the wind out of the sales tax.

Too many people will give three cheers for something they won't give anything else for.

Electric Service Rates Were Going Down
WHEN EVERYTHING ELSE WAS GOING UP

Major reduction after major reduction was made in the charges for electrical service provided the people of Canyon by our company at a time when services of every other nature were showing increases from month to month.

And prices for many of the other things which you purchase for the convenience and needs of your home and place of business still must come down a far-way to be in line comparatively with the high peak of charges for electric service as compared with present charge levels.

We are making every effort to give a good service to the people served by our lines at the lowest possible price.

AMERICA AND PEACE IS DISCUSSED BY LEAGUE

Sunday night at the League hour, the young people of the Methodist church discussed the subject of America and World Peace.

Marie Moore gave an introductory talk in which she discussed George Washington's attitude toward war and his efforts toward peace. Perry Williams delivered an oration of World Peace. He presented the idea that people in general are beginning to forsake their old hero-worship of the warrior for an admiration of the statesman who had a world vision of mutual helpfulness.

Eva Pierce gave a reading, "Armistice Day." This was followed by an open discussion led by Victor Dunlap. In seeking to determine what characteristics our natures should possess, such topics as these were discussed: Honorable relations with all countries; helpful attitude toward weaker nations; and a spirit of confidence toward other nations.

The program was concluded by a song, "Peace, Peace," sung by Coy Palmer.

The program for next Sunday night will be on the subject of "The Home." There will be an open forum discussion on the question, "What kind of a Home Would I Like to Have?"

All young people are invited to these meetings and intitled to take a part.

L. N. GEORGE SAYS:

There are more places to let than there will be students to take this summer and there will be more students than there are places to let. The solution of the riddle is simple but the solution of the problem involved is not so easy. There were vacant places last summer. There will be some also this summer. Then we have more places than students. But three families left Canyon last summer because there was no place in which to stay, and this may be repeated this summer. The riddle is solved but what about the problem?

Folks will be here looking for nice clean resasonably priced quarters and not find them while some people in Canyon will have vacant places all summer. In spite of the storm Saturday two families were in looking for houses. We hope they found what they wanted for in the group there were ten students for W. T. But the point to which we want to call your attention is that any one prospect well satisfied now may mean this many later.

Heretofore we have used the glee clubs, the band, the quartet and speakers of various kinds. On the whole they have gotten wonderful results. They have contacted the high schools for the college in what may be called a "shotgun fashion." We have no criticism of it, because it got results. So far this year, we have been unable to do these more appropriate things. Hence we have had to substitute (if what we have done may be called a substitute) personal contact. Last year when we closed our programs at such places as Childress or Plainview possibly we had six or seven seniors to take catalogues and ask pertinent questions about our college. This year when Aln Read stopped talking at Spearman about thirty catalogues were called for and they kept two of us busy for an hour answering questions.

At Childress when Ronald Davis finished talking fifty asked for catalogues and they kept two busy for nearly two hours answering questions. At Dalhart when Herman Troutman finished talking, thrty catalogues were called for and so many asking questions that we had to repair to a class room and answer questions for two hours. And so on, including all towns to which we have been. We cannot tell just how to interpret this but the indications are that unless there is some kind of calamity there will be a large enrollment this fall. These boys and girls are right now preparing in earnest to be here this fall. They are starting all kinds of projects which will help to meet expenses. Leon Payne, Earl Davis, Law Sone, Roger George and Billie Hawkins are other students who have talked to the high school seniors over this territory. Many others have volunteered their services and will be given an opportunity to assist in this work as soon as possible.

Buffalo Mascot Loses in Tiff With Jersey Bull

Charles C., we're regusted—to think you'd pull a stunt like that. And after all the bragging we've done. Our heads are bowed in sheer humiliation and shame for you.

It happened like this: Charles C. was feeling like "spring had came" so he broke the fence in two places trying to get out. He finally succeeded and proceeded to explore the neighboring fields—but alas the doman he surveyed was not his—it belonged to a Jersey Bull. Well they both caught sight of each other at the same moment and, zowie! The fight was on. But the Jersey had the advantage—his horns were longer. He pushed and pushed until Charles C. backed into the strands of wire he had torn loose from the fence. He got tangled in the said wire and stumbled. The Jersey hauled off. He ran at Charles C. from a side, and down went poor Charles for a row of perfectly beautiful sparkling stars. The Jersey, by this time thoroughly aroused, proceeded to rake Charles C. with his horns.

Torture can be stood only so long, so as soon as the stars quit scintillating he staggered to his feet and started for home. The Jersey was delighted to speed his parting guest so he got in behind Charles C. and butted him over the fence.

Let it be recorded that Charles C. has retired to the farther corner of the field and is sulking over the affair, and the Jersey is strutting all around the said field just daring Charles to venture forth.

The time of action was Wednesday night, the scene the buffalo pen and the auditors were the two other buffaloes in the pen and a couple of Jersey cows. Gene Whitman arrived only in time to see Charles C.'s ignominious retreat from the battle ground.—The Prairie.

Eagle Tennis Players Lose School Tilts

The Canyon High School tennis team has not been quite so successful during the past week as they were at the beginning of the season. However, they have lost only one dual match.

Plainview same to Canyon Friday, April 8, and gave the Eagles their first defeat of the year..

Wooten, the crack singles player, maintained his undefeated record by scoring a victory over the Plainview singles man by the score of 6-2, 3-6, 6-3.

Lockhart and Thomas lost their first match of the season to Chatham and Wester of Plainview, 6-3, 3-6, 6-8.

Stroud and Taylor lost, 2-6, 6-3, 3-6.

Canyon entered five teams in the Amarillo invitation tournament held Saturday. Several matches of the tourney had been played when rain caused the meet to be cancelled. Wooten and Stroud teamed up and defeated Amarillo 6-3, 9-7.

Wooten then defeated Sudan easily by the score of 6-2, 6-2.

Lockhart and Thomas took a sound drubbing from the powerful Las Vegas team by the lopsided score of 6-2, 6-1.

Stroud drew Ordway of Amarillo but did not get to play.

Robinson and Black drew a bye in the first round.

The ranking of the Canyon teams are:

Singles, Clarence Wooten, Wilford Taylor.

Doubles, Arthur Robinson and Robert Black; Vincent Lockhart and Harvey Thomas; Ogden Stroud and Wilford Taylor.

The teams are now working out in preparration for the U. I. L. district tournament to be held in Amarillo on April 22-23.

"Whoofenpoof" To Be Given Here April 15

On Friday night, April 15th, the Senior play, "Whoofenpoof" will be presented at the high school. The cast is made up of eight characters, who are:

Wheeler Ketchell, twenty-four, the "Whoofenpoof," Wilford Taylor.

Dad Ketchell, fifty-five, his father, editor of the Colfax Condenser, George Schmitz.

Mrs. Ketchell, forty-eight, his mother, Lilla Beth Burroughs.

John Liebeck, fifty, the printer and part owner of the Condenser, Curtis Bell.

Dup Liebeck, twenty, his daughter, who understands, Ruth Cox.

Mona Lowry, twenty-seven, editor of the rival newspaper, Virginia Leigh Bull.

Roarin' Riley, forty, the sheriff of Colfax, Harvey Thomas.

Widow Winters, forty, who has a purpose, Beulah Ballengee.

Wheeler is a deeply sympathetic character just out of college.

Dad is a character who leads his audience into loud bursts of laughter. He is the prototype of the beloved Western pioneer; he is sentimental, honorable, anl loyal, but shows a few of his child-like traits.

Mrs. Ketchell is a woman of great motherly love and pride.

John, like Dad, is the loveable, sympathetic type even thought he is very nervous and easily excited.

The Widow, with John, plays a very comical part in the play. She is the hot-headed, over-bearing type of a person and forces John to promise to become her husband.

Roarin' Riley is a lot of fun to the people in the office. He also has a big surprise for everyone in his love affairs.

Mona is a beautiful girl of flashing nature. She is very fickle, vampish, and thinks more of love than business.

Dup is far beyond the fears and worries of a woman in love. She is very practical, and reliable. Her self-righteousness, her motherly attention toward John and Dad, and her unswerving loyalty to the paper shows her wonderful character.

The scene of this three act comedy is in the main office of the Colfax Condenser.

Seniors Leave Vacant Halls on Sneak Day

A solitary freshman strolled leisurely down a vacant hall and walked in room 13.

"Hello, Miss Murrell," he drawled, "Kinda lonesome in here, huh?"

He was the "class." For some unknown reason the seniors had vanished into parts unknown and left one person in the 10:00 o'clock civic class.

The day before everyone in the school whispered, "Tomorrow's senior sneak day." The freshman gloated over the fact and beamed out with that, "Oh, yon can't fool me; I know all about it" look.

About fifty seniors enjoyed this annual event. The students met at 7:00 (a. m.) and left for the Methodist Camp Grounds. Hiking, baseball and swimming served to make monstrous appetites and aided in cleaning the abundant table. After lunch and more swimming and hiking, tired bodies were dragged into Canyon.

GIRL DEBATERS WIN.

The C. H. S. girls debate team consisting of Kathryn Robinson and Maxine Wallace defeated Olton in a debate on the Interscholastic League question, "Resolved, That lobbying as practiced today in this country is detrimental to the people."

The boys team, Thomas Gerald and Oliver Grabbe, were defeated by the Littlefield boys.

TO MAKE SURVEY.

Dr. Albert Barnett's graduate class plans to make survey work now being done in the Canyon Public Schools.

This study will include administration, finance, instruction, personnel, supervision, curriculum, attendance, and other phases of the organization and functionings of the school.

The results of the survey will show the strength and weaknesses of the system when compared with the standards of other school systems and compared with the best theory and practice available.

The last six weeks are here. To some of us it is going to be a period of redemption—to others it is going to be the finish of a successful year's work. To the seniors it is going to be the gaining of an eleven years goal. But these last six weeks are still school and much profit can be gained from them.

The entire routine of the school is going to be interrupted by graduation. Visitors are going to be present. Every student should make it his responsibility to show Canyon High off to its best advantage.

Here it is!
The Tractor you've always wanted

HERE, in the new Model "CC" Case, is a tractor that successfully combines a plowing and a cultivating tractor in one machine. It is the first tractor to offer a variable wheel spacing feature by which the rear wheels can be easily moved in or out, from standard 48-inch tread for plowing to various treads, up to 84 inches, for row crop planting and cultivating.

This is the tractor you've always wanted. It fits all your work . . . handles easily between the rows . . . swings around quickly . . . loses no time in turning . . . works rapidly because of three fast speeds and enables you to accomplish a lot of work in a day.

The Model "CC" is designed to work with two and four row planters and cultivators and is adapted to various equipment for every soil and for every row crop—flat, ridge and furrow.

Those who have seen this new tractor are loud in their praise of its many unusual features which, it is easy to see, will cut the cost of every farm operation. Come in and let's see what you think.

OIL Gone...

He Drove from Banner to Sheridan on the GERM PROCESSED "Hidden Quart"

The driver for the Sheridan Motor Bus Company was ready to leave Banner, Wyoming, for Sheridan with his big Reo bus loaded with passengers.

Then he made a discovery. The oil line had been accidentally broken, allowing the Conoco Germ Processed Oil to drain out; and the crankcase was empty. With all Banner closed for Thanksgiving, he could not get oil and had to drive the 16 miles to Sheridan without oil. At Sheridan, inspection showed that the "Hidden Quart" of Conoco Germ Processed Oil had saved the motor from damage!

If Conoco Germ Processed Oil can protect a heavy bus with the crankcase empty, it will certainly give you sure, safe lubrication in everyday driving. It is the only oil that actually penetrates and combines with metal surfaces. That's why a "Hidden Quart" stays up in your motor and never drains away. It cuts down wear in the starting period, when other oils drain away and leave parts unprotected. It gives your motor longer life, with fewer repair bills.

Have this extra protection. Change to Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil at the sign of the Conoco Red Triangle.

We neither encourage "dry crankcase" experiments nor guarantee success under all conditions. But unsolicited letters from motorists, now in our files, tell of the oil hundreds of other runs with empty crankcases but without damage.

Children's Styles Stress Simplicity

LIGHT TONES, OR BLUES AND GREENS, ARE COLORS WHICH SHOULD FEATURE THE LITTLE MISS' SPRING WARDROBE

BY HARRIET

YOUNG "MISS AMERICA" has quite as much chic and individuality to her togs this spring as mamma.

Children's things always are smartest when they are simplest. Pretty colors, nice materials, a general lack of fussiness—these are the best fashion points any mother can know.

Little girls' coats and dresses, in general, follow the same molded form that their mothers' silhouettes take. Their wide shoulders, for instance, are usually just tiny flaring tops on thin dresses, instead of sleeves; or little capelets or epaulets, very plain, usually only a suggestion.

Blues are quite as good for children's things as for their mothers.' Greens are popular for little girls, and always seem springlike. Light tones, more than dark ones, should be used whenever possible for girls this spring. And if fur is used, or if lingerie touches are used, they should be just touches, not any heavy amount of either.

ONE of the smartest of little spring coats for little Miss Eight-Year-Old (and quite as good for several years younger or older) is an imported one, of soft pastel-green wool, trimmed with summer ermine. Both the tiny cuffs of fur and the little standing collar are removable. Under the collar there is a round collarless neckline, with cute little tabs of the material fastening down right in front, quite like a grown-up's collar. The bottom line of the front closings of this coat are rounded, giving it a more graceful look.

There is a little fabric hat in the same color, a shaped beret which is very youthful looking. It has tiny pompons of the fur at the back.

For a slightly older child, there is a smart ensemble of lightweight wool voile. The dress is a pretty light tone of rose beige and the coat is a much darker tone of the same color.

The dress has fine paneling, making box pleats which flare to give the skirt fullness. There is quite a fitted waist portion to this dress and the cutest little shaped collar and cuffs of embroidered white pique. The collar has its cute tab that runs through a slit in the dress, to give a tailored jabot effect. The sleeves are short.

The coat has a belted tailored look, with raglan sleeves and the cutest revered collar. No fur. The belt is of self material and the coat is such that it can be worn to top any spring dress little Miss America has.

The plain brimmed natural leghorn hat is typical of what little girls are wearing this year. Either tiny berets of plain brimmed hats. The entire outfit has that simplicity, though there is much hand detail on the dress, that the best dressed girls always have.

CANYON CITY CLUB NEWS

Bill Bryant is asking that all golfers remember that April 24th at 1:30 p. m., the club opens the golf season at Plainview. Bill says it will be tough, but not too tough, as only twenty matches can be lost—in one day. He says every man in the club should go to Plainview; if you are not on the team go and get the experience. To qualify one must play eighteen holes of medal play on the day and on the course where the match is being played; the low twenty medal scores makes the team for the succeeding match; for the game at Plainview the team will be selected, after the opening date all must qualify.

Thursday afternoon women golfers report a wind-blown but enthusiastic group were out; they continue to urge that all club women join them and have something beside bridge to talk about.

H. A. Brown wants to know if Amos an' Andy's Reducinest Reducing Company's efforts can be applied to his golf score.

Only fourteen treasury shares of the club are available. When these are sold the chartered membership of the club will be full. The Club owns without debt 255 acres of land; is about four miles northwest of town; has about one and one-half miles of creek; lots of trees; a sporty nine hole golf course completed and another nine even sportier almost completed; club house; play-ground equipment and a number of other attractive features. Members may fish, loaf, golf, or tramp as they see fit.

R. A. Terrill says it is discouraging when a fellow is off his game for two or three weeks, then suddenly gets worse.

Who can remember when every golfer had at least one new ball in his bag?

CHURCH OF CHRIST

In spite of the fact that the weather conditions last Sunday morning were not so favorable, there was a marked increase in the number present at Bible study. A very cordial invitation is extended to all to attend services weekly. The subject for Sunday morning will be, The Deserter. Everyone who is, or ever has been interested in Christianity, come and bring a friend. The facts to be revealed may be of interest to you. The subject for Sunday evening will be, Things for Which the Church of Christ Stands. If you have a question in your mind about what this church really stands for, come out and erase that question. Everything will be taken from the Bible, there are no man-made creeds or doctrines—only the Bible and nothing more or nothing less.

A friendly welcome awaits all who will attend the mid-week services; ladies Bible class, Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock, and prayer meeting Wednesday evening at eight o'clock.

We are expecting you to be present at each one of these services.

Local Minister.

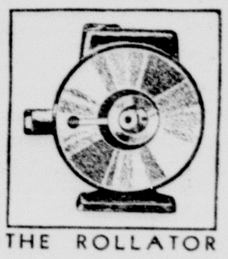
Sensitive instruments recording time, temperature and current consumption . . . a room heated to 120° Fahr.—hotter than most kitchens ever get . . . an impartial engineer believing nothing he can't prove.

Out of such a test emerged the simple fact that the Norge Electric Refrigerator chills faster, stays colder, freezes ice in less time . . . and does it all on less current.

THE TEST

At 6 p.m.—temperature inside the Norge 92°—room temperature 120°.
At 8 p.m.—Norge temperature 50°—room temperature 120°.
At 11 p.m.—Norge temperature 40°—room temperature 120°.
From then on Norge didn't get above 40°.
Norge used least current of all tested.
Norge froze all ice cubes solid and in the least time.
This impartial comparative test is not nearly so extreme as the standard Norge factory test.
For more complete details of this test, write the Norge Distributor whose name and address appears below.

The test was conducted to decide which of all electric refrigerators was to be chosen for a thousand metropolitan apartments. Considerations of appearance, general construction, convenient arrangement, capacity, and prestige of the manufacturer narrowed the choice to four. And of the four, Norge was finally chosen.



THE ROLLATOR

Selecting a refrigerator for your home is little different from the problem facing the man who purchased a thousand. The things you want to know are the things he found out. So we suggest that, when you are ready to equip your home with electric refrigeration—see the Norge before you buy.

Norge is manufactured by Norge Corporation, Detroit, a Division of Borg-Warner, one of the world's largest makers of automotive parts, including free wheeling.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS

With Koenig and Lazzeri, Yanks Copped Flag in '26, '27 and '28; Will New German-Italian Combination of Saltzgaver and Crosetti Help Them Repeat?

BY PHILIP MARTIN

IF history repeats itself, and you'll admit it frequently does, then the New York Yankees are going to rush right out and capture an American League pennant this season. It isn't such a long story.

While Washington was winning championships in 1924 and '25, the late Miller Huggins was quietly building himself another machine like the one that swept three straight pennants in 1921, '22 and '23. He picked up a German shortstop in 1925 from St. Paul. At the close of that season he grabbed an Italian second baseman from the Pacific Coast League. Their names? Mark Koenig and Tony Lazzeri.

You may recall that in 1926 the Yanks started. Koenig and Lazzeri became the keymen of the inner defense and added power to the batting attack. The Yanks won pennants in 1926, '27 and '28, winning the world series the last two years in four straight each time.

AS the 1932 race opens, we find a similar situation in New York. The Yanks have found another German-Italian keystone combination. They are from the same American Association and Pacific Coast League. They have proved fine fielders and strong hitters in a month of spring training and exhibition work. Their names? Jack Saltzgaver and Frank Crosetti.

In one detail is the situation changed from 1926. The German this time is the second baseman, the Italian the shortstop. The new German is from the same AA club, St. Paul, from whence came Koenig. The rookie Italian hails from San Francisco, where Lazzeri was born and raised.

• • •

SALTZGAVER was touted as the best infielder in the American Association. The same was true of Koenig, for whom the Yanks paid approximately $50,000 in cash and players. Saltzgaver batted .340, scored 150 runs and made 231 hits last year. In his last year in the Association, Koenig batted .308, scored 78 runs and made 153 hits.

Crosetti led the Coast League with 144 runs scored last season. He batted .344 and was fifth in total hits with 251 bingles. In 1925, his final year in the same circuit, Lazzeri batted .355, scored 202 runs and got 252 hits in a season that stretched out over 197 games.

Even in size, Saltzgaver and Crosetti are almost duplicates of Koenig and Lazzeri. Of the Teutons, Koenig at 6 feet and 180 younds is an inch taller and 20 pounds heavier. The Italian Lazzeri and Crosetti are the same, 5 feet 10 1-2 and 160 pounds each.

Miller Huggins took the gamble and won on his rookie pair. Can McCarthy win the 1932 pot with a similar pair?
